

Gina Elise

Gina Elise is the founder of "Pin-Ups for Vets", a project to support hospitalized veterans and deployed troops.

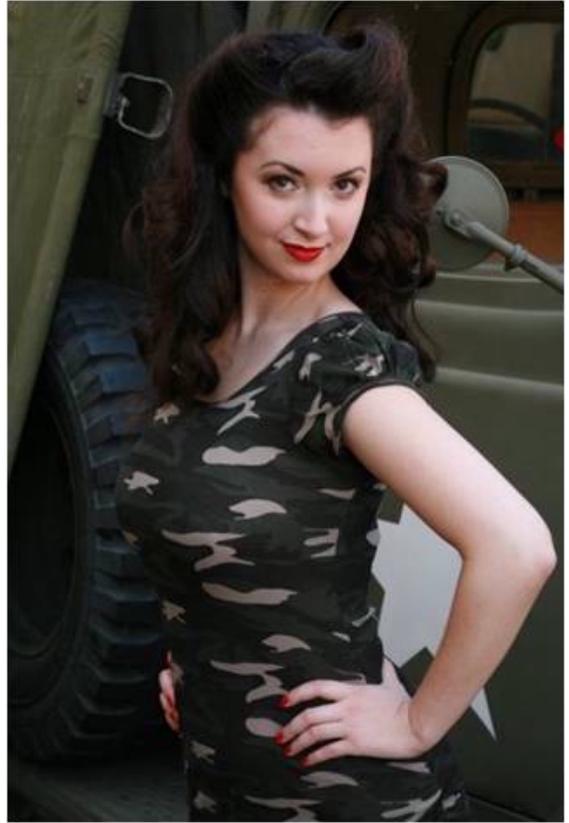

To my brave heroes,

You are my inspiration. I have met thousands of you at VA and military hospitals across the United States. I have seen your service to our country, your patriotism, your generosity, your kindness, your hospitality, your intense work ethic and your courage in the face of extreme circumstances. I have never met such incredible people as those who are serving in our military. An old saying goes: actions speak louder than words. And you are all about actions. Your perseverance has shown me how to be determined in my own life. Your courage has shown me how to be strong in difficult times. Your sacrifices have shown me that life is about giving to and helping others. You are my role models. Please know that we on the home front are thinking of you and wish every servicemember you all a safe return home.

Please send me an e-mail at pinupsforvets@aol.com if you need calendars for your unit. I would be more than happy to send some your way. And please let me know if you want any special messages on them!

From a very thankful Pin-Up Girl,

Gina Elise
